A roller coaster ride of colours, a trip through the lanes of culture, a date with tradition and legacy, a tryst with spirituality, you will be aw-struck by the imagery, you will be mesmerized by the heritage, you will be spellbound by the culture, you will succumb, this is the magic of India that's me, truly incredible India.

I am the land of wonders, love and ancient temple cities. I am a unique example of private-public partnership presenting kaleidoscope of my various colours, splashing freely on the canvas of your heart. I am a country where love letters are written in stones. A country steeped in history, diverse in landscape and abundant in just about every form of culture. I am beautiful grand, fascinating, lively, energetic and colourful that you can never visit it just once.

I have a talented new generation of entrepreneurs turned hoteliers that have recast some of India's bygone splendours into ravishing, highly individual properties. Today they can be found across India, some in colonial bungalows, others in medieval fortresses or centuries old mansions. I offer distinctive experience that combines a refreshingly modern take on preservatonism with sophisticated and savvy service.

I am a place that simultaneously astounds and confounds. From the Moghul glories of Agra in Uttar Pradesh to the tattooed tribes of Nagaland and the Buddhist monasteries of the Himalayas, I offer a kaleidoscope of cultures and landscapes in extensive variety giving an opportunity to you to explore it all.

You can enjoy me like a Maharaja and sinking into a world of luxury and style or by contrast, taking the roads less traveled by fellow visitors.

You can discover secret palaces and jewel bright dream-scapes, dazzling fashion and an explosion of colour, shine and sequins. My amazing diversity offers you everything you could ever want in a holiday. From the moment that you set foot in India to be greeted by a graceful Namaste, a gesture that denotes both welcome and respect, you are on the way to one of the most rewarding experiences of your life.

Bounded by the majestic Himalayan ranges in the north and edged by a spectacular coastline surrounded by three seas, I am a vivid kaleidoscope of landscapes, magnificent historical sites and royal cities, golden beaches, misty mountain retreats, colorful people, rich cultures and festivities.
At any part of the year I can offer you a dazzling array of destinations and experiences. In summer, when the subcontinent is sizzling, there are spectacular retreats amidst the heady beauty of the Himalayas or the lush heights of the Western Ghats with cool trekking trails, tall peaks to conqueror stretches of white water for the adventure seekers.

In the cool of an Indian winter, cities come alive with cultural feasts of music and dance. The balmy weather is an ideal time for you to go century hopping in romantic cities studded with medieval forts and palaces. The sun drenched beaches are inviting and wildlife sanctuaries with their abundance of flora and fauna are a buzz with the nurture of the young.

You can taste the delights of the my monsoon anywhere in the country - on a camel safari in the Rajasthan desert when nature comes alive and the peacocks dance; along the west coast where the relentless slanting rain paints the countryside in brilliant greens or even trekking amidst the stark grandeur of mountain valleys lying in the rain shadow of the Himalayas. Experience me like a maharaja in the rich ambiance of royal forts and palaces that are now heritage hotels; luxuriate in the serene beauty of a coral island with its turquoise lagoon; participate in the exuberance of a village fair or a colorful festival; day dream on a house boat drifting down the palm - fringed backwaters; delight in the grace of a dancer or shop till you drop - buying exquisite silks, carved figurines, brass and silver ware, marble inlaid with semi-precious stones, finely crafted jewelry, miniature paintings, carpets ....at unbelievable prices. Always warm and inviting, I am a place of infinite variety - one that favors you with a different facet of its fascination every time you come-on a visit.

3 * Indian Horizons

Showcasing North

Delhi is my capital, an ideal place to start your exploration of my northern side. Delhi is a city of fascinating contrasts. Its monuments and structures take you through the centuries past seven older cities that existed here. So go sightseeing - Qutub Minar, the tall victory tower built in 1199, the splendid Red Fort and the majestic Jama Masjid with its striped domes and tall minarets. Other architectural delights include the Humayun’s Tomb, the Jantar Mantar, the Purana Qila and the magnificent government complex on Raisina Hill the Rashtrapati Bhavan framed by the Secretariats and the circular Parliament House. It is a marvellous place for shopping. So visit its bustling bazaars and don’t forget to have a taste of the best of Indian cuisine at its fine restaurants. Take off then on the golden triangle trail on to Agra and Jaipur for my historic glimpse. At Agra, view the pristine poetry of the Taj Mahal - a memorial to immortal love and the imposing Red Fort. Meander through the amazing ghost town of Fatehpur Sikri, perfectly preserved, built by the Emperor Akbar in red sandstone. Jaipur imprints itself on your memory in the most vivid of colours. You could stay in one of its many palaces or mansions for a royal experience and wander off on elephant back to view the Amber Fort majestically located up on a hill. Do not miss the Hawa Mahal, the tall facade with delicately filigreed red sandstone. Beyond Jaipur, in Rajasthan are fabulous towns with magnificent forts and palaces that still reflect a feudal spirit. Jodhpur, Jaisalmer, Bikaner and Udaipur. Off the beaten track, discover the beauty of the desert on a camel safari. Wander past colourful villages in the desert and sleep under a brilliant starlit sky. Feel like heading for the hills? There is an entire panorama of magical retreats for you along the Himalayan ranges. Beautiful resorts in Himachal Pradesh include Shimla, Kullu, Manali, Dharamsala, Dalhousie, Sarahan and a whole range of scenic spots Kufri, Naldehra, Chail and Narkanda around Shimla and Manikaran, Naggar, and Brighu Lake near Kullu and Manali. Jammu and Kashmir is segregated into three regions. It consists of Jammu to the south, Ladakh in the northeast and geographically the smallest segment Kashmir, comprised mainly of a river valley, surrounded by lofty mountains. All three segments are distinguished by their diversity and ethnicity. Leh is an amazing place with sheer beauty and elegance. Ladakh offers adventurous trekking tips and is thereby setup between the two of the world’s greatest mountain ranges - Himalayan and Karakoram. Uttranchal in the northern part of India is blessed with rushing rivers, awesome snow-coated peaks, bewildering lakes, venerated temples and a bursting plethora of flora and fauna. Lucknow, the tine capital of Uttar Pradesh and an entire pilgrimage trail along the holy river Ganga - Gangotri, Yamunotri, Rishikesh, Haridwar, Allahabad, Varanasi, complete your circuit of my northern side that is Northern India. The State of Madhya Pradesh is my heart. It has an entire range of new experiences for you - medieval cities like Gwalior, Orchha, Mandu, marvellously carved temples at Khajuraho, little hill stations and the forests that Kipling so faithfully described in his ‘Jungle Book’.
I offer my exotic journey in South India. Chennai, the capital of the state of Tamil Nadu is a marvellous place to start your voyage of discovery. It is a town steeped in tradition though it was created by the British 350 years ago! So visit the Fort St. George, the St. Mary’s Church, the splendid Marina Beach, the beautiful Kapaleeswarar Temple, the St. Thomas Mount, where St. Thomas the Apostle was martyred, the National Art Gallery, the San Thome Cathedral, the Parthasarathy Temple, Valluvar Kottam, Cholamandalam, the artist’s village and Kalakshetra.

Tamil Nadu has fascinating towns with magnificent temples. Mamallapuram close to Chennai, is a marvellous open air museum set along a fabulous beach with an array of sculptured edifices, cave temples and has reliefs. Further down the coast, Pondicherry displays its French heritage in its seaside villas and the French names of its streets.

Want a break from the heat? Not too far away are Ooty (Udhagamandalam) and Coimbatore - picturesque hill towns. The splendid cities of Bangalore and Mysore reflect the royal heritage of Karnataka. Bangalore, the state capital is a lively cosmopolitan city noted for its fine climate and extensive gardens. Visit the exquisite Hoysala temples at Halebid and Belur not far from Bangalore. Mysore is another charming city with its beautiful palaces and royal traditions. Up on a hill overlooking the city is the temple to Chamundeswari, its patron goddess. Interesting trips around Mysore include the Brindavan Gardens, Srirangapatna, the Ranganathittoo Bird Sanctuary, the ornate Hoysala temple at Somnathpur and the Nagarhole National Park.

Backwaters Kerala

Charminar, Hyderabad

Mysore Palace

Hampi, Karnataka

Showcasing South

all within easy reach of the city.

Hyderabad, the capital city of Andhra Pradesh is exciting with its domes and minarets, palaces and colourful bazaars spilling over with silks, pearls, perfumes, antiques and glittering glass bangles. The imposing Char Minar and the Golconda Fort looming in the distance are two well known landmarks. Take time off to visit the unusual museum at Nagarjunakonda where an ancient Buddhist site has been relocated on an island in the reservoir of the Nagarjunakonda Dam.

The state of Kerala along the west coast of the peninsula is a lush green escape with beautiful beaches, historic port towns and pretty retreats in the hills. Visit Thiruvananthapuram, the state capital. The Padmanabhaswamy Temple, the unusual Napier Museum and the Chitra Art Gallery are some of its attractions. The delightful beach resort at Kovalam and the famous Padmanabhapuram Palace are closeby.

Explore the port town of Kochi. See the old Jewish Synagogue, the Mattancherry Palace, St. Francis Church - the oldest European church in the subcontinent and the Chinese fishing nets. Visit Kumarakom set in the scenic backwater country and drift along the serene waterways vaulted by coconut palms for a delightful break from routine. The coral islands of Lakshadweep are easily accessible from Kochi. Laze on its pristine beaches and go snorkelling in its crystal lagoons.
Kolkata is a good starting point for your travels in my Eastern side that is Eastern India. The capital of the state of West Bengal, Kolkata has a charm all its own. Imperial edifices, teeming bazaars, clubs and golf courses, museums and elegant hotels and the River Hooghly winding through the city are all part of its fascination. A good time to visit Kolkata is during the Durga Puja in October/November when Calcutta is decked and decorated and is alive with good cheer and celebration.

Many of Kolkata's imperial buildings are located around the maidan, a large expanse of lawns that forms the heart of the city. They include the Victoria Memorial, an imposing structure in white marble that has a collection of paintings, manuscripts and memorabilia, the Fort William, the Raj Bhawan, the St. Paul's Cathedral and the Town Hall built in the Doric style. Calcutta has a lively cultural life and fine clubs. So see an art exhibition or two or go to the theatre.

Take a toy train to the magnificent hill station of Darjeeling for an unusual travel experience. Admire a panorama of some of the highest peaks in the Himalayan ranges. Go onwards to Gangtok, the attractive capital of Sikkim.

Travel further north to the lush Brahmaputra Valley to Assam. Explore the verdant unspoilt beauty of the hill states of the north east Meghalaya, Arunachal Pradesh, Mizoram, Nagaland, Tripura and Manipur. There are exciting trekking trails and colourful cultures to encounter and enjoy. Guwahati, set along the banks of the Brahmaputra, Shillong, a pretty hill station in Meghalaya with its grassy downs and lakes are special destinations.

From Calcutta you can wander off in the south eastern direction for a fantastic break to the spectacular Andaman Islands - 300 odd islands in the Bay of Bengal with their lush rain forests and sparkling beaches. You could go by air or take a slow boat to the islands!

Along the coastline, south of Kolkata is the magical state of Orissa. Splendid temples in the Nagara style with tall shikaras or temple towers embellished with exquisite carving are the main attractions of this state. The temple towns of Bhubaneswar and Puri with Konark noted for its unusual Sun Temple, make a marvellous circuit close to Kolkata.

Go west to the state of Bihar for a gentle trail in the path of the Buddha. Ancient settlements- Bodhgaya, the remains of the university town of Nalanda, Rajgir, Vaishali and Sarnath in Uttar Pradesh evoke the life of the Enlightened One.
On my west, you will find uncommon destinations & experiences that delight. Mumbai, a major metropolis and the financial capital of India, is a logical start to your perambulations. Mumbai is dynamic and exciting. There are marvellous shopping arcades, fine restaurants and art galleries. The Gateway of India, built in 1911 to commemorate the visit of King George V and Queen Mary to the Delhi Durbar, is a major landmark as also the imposing Taj Mahal Hotel close by. The Prince of Wales Museum, the Jehangir Art Gallery, the various churches, temples and shrines including the one of Haji Ali out on an island linked by a causeway, are worth a glimpse. Take a boat ride out to the Elephant Island to see the marvellous rock cut caves noted for their huge sculpted panels. Other interesting destinations close by include - the Kanheri Caves, the beach resorts at Madh Island and Manori and the charming little hill station of Matheran, all within easy reach.

Not far from Mumbai is the lovely hill resort of Mahabaleshwar, picturesque during the monsoons with its lakes, waterfalls and wild flower strewn landscapes. Pune is another exciting town located on the Deccan Plateau, once the capital of Shivaji, the great Maratha ruler. Within easy reach are splendid forts up on the fastness of hill tops well worth seeing.

Another treat is the charming Raja Dinkar Kelkar Museum. It has exhibits that include traditional brassware, utensils, carved doorways and pillars.

Aurangabad, a historic city with various monuments from the time of the Mughals, is a good base for visits to the magnificent Ajanta and Ellora Caves, dating from about 200 BC to 800 AD. Many of these rock cut caves are embellished with exquisite paintings and carvings.

Goa is a fabulous getaway with its beautiful beaches. Picturesque villages along the coast with white washed churches and red tiled houses set amidst groves of coconut add charm to the landscape. Near Panaji, is the old Portuguese capital of Velha Goa noted for its fine churches in the baroque style. These include the Basilica of Bom Jesus, the magnificent Se Cathedral and Church of St. Francis of Assisi.

The state of Gujarat offers interesting destinations the ancient port of Lothal built about 4000 years ago, Ahmedabad, with its fine old residences and museums; Vadodara, a centre for the arts and once the royal capital of Gujarat; Palitana - an entire hill top encrusted in finely carved temples; Somnath with its old temple and the picturesque little island retreat of Diu close to the beach resort of Ahmedpur Mandvi.
On the Coromandel coast in the east are the rock-cut temples by southwards to the white sands of Kovalam on the Malabar coast.
Konkan coast in the west has the beaches of Goa and Diu. Go swaying, fringed shadow of the palms. On the eastern and western receding again, leaving behind sea shells and driftwood. The molten gold. The crashing surf streaming up the sand and then understanding of one of the greatest thinkers of India.

Visit Sarnath where he gave his first sermon and Kushinagar pilgrim's passage through the palaces immortalised by the memory of their past glory, The pilgrim's route meanders through leaving behind in forbidding fortresses and ornate palaces, the timeless spirit of ancient India. Where Empires rose and fell, and silver rivers, that was once Kipling's India. Here, experience the past. Here, folk culture still retains all its colour and vivacity.
With exuberant celebrations of fairs and festivals. A music that echoes across the desert emptiness and a tradition of craftsmanship with a highly developed aesthetic sense. Begin your desert adventure at Jodhpur, a fortress-city at the edge of the Thar Desert. Then travel to Jaisalmer to see its unforgettable golden fortress. The trade route outpost of Bikaner still retains a medieval flavour. While the route to Barmer will take you through typical Rajasthani villages. The four cities on your itinerary will create a perfect portrait of this exotically-beautiful desert land.

Heritage Tours - Discover the heart of India as you travel through Madhya Pradesh. A landscape of abundant forests, soaring hills and silver rivers, that was once Kipling's India. Here, experience the timeless spirit of ancient India. Where Empires rose and fell, leaving behind in forbidding fortresses and ornate palaces, the memory of their past glory. The pilgrim's route meanders through temples where stone carvings capture every facet of life. And the faithful worship at Buddhist stupas. Begin your journey at the ancient city of Gwalior. Take a break at Shivpuri, a national park.
At Orchha, the temples and palaces of the Bundela rulers line the banks of a river. And the highpoint of your trip will be the final destination - the incomparable temples of Khajuraho.

Buddhist Circuit - Two thousand five hundred years ago, a gentle tape gave the world the path to enlightenment. Sakayamuni, Gautama Buddha, travelled this land preaching his message of compassion, simplicity and renunciation. This circuit is a pilgrim's passage through the palaces immortalised by the enlightened one. The highlight of your journey will be the Holy Bodhi tree at Bodhgaya under which he gained enlightenment.
Visit Sarnath where he gave his first sermon and Kushinagar where he attained Parinirvana. And among the ruins of Nalanda you can still hear a distant echo of the chants of scholars of ancient times. Your journey promises joy, serenity and a deeper understanding of one of the greatest thinkers of India.

Beaches of India - A sunrise over the horizon turning the sea into molten gold. The crashing surf streaming up the sand and then receding again, leaving behind sea shells and driftwood. The swaying, fringed shadow of the palms. On the eastern and western coasts of Kerala, endless beaches offer you a balmy holiday. The Konkan coast in the west has the beaches of Goa and Diu. Go southwards to the white sands of Kovalam on the Malabar coast.
On the Coromandel coast in the east are the rock-cut temples by the sea at Mamallapuram and the seaside retreat at Gopalpur-on-Sea. These breathtaking beaches promise the perfect escape to tranquillity.

Adventure Sports - Let nature challenge you. India's wide choice of adventure sports ranges from the daring of the exotic. A test of skill, toughness, endurance... and always exciting. Choose your kind of adventure. The perennial challenge of the Himalayas for mountaineers. Coniferous forests and flower meadows welcome the trekker. And the rapids of snow-fed rivers are ideal for white water rafting. Your quest for excitement can only lead to India.

Backwaters of Kerala - A magical cruise through emerald waters. The dominant colours are the deep green of paddy fields and palm groves, the azure blue of the sky and the golden shimmer of the sun on the ripples of the waterways. Kerala is said to have sprung from the ocean. All along its coast, these exotic backwaters, canals, lagoons and inlets create an intricate maze that stretches for 1900 km across the land.
Begin your journey at Alappuzha. Floating slowly past coconut palms dipping down towards the water and serene villages, as the moving landscape creates a living portrait of Kerala's rural life. Other country crafts will go by, some carrying a load of fresh bananas or coir, others filled with people travelling to nearby villages.
At Kumarakom, a 14-acre bird sanctuary, that is accessible from Alappuzha, by the vividly beautiful Vembanad Lake, see the nesting storks and a variety of water fowl. Some of the most unforgettable scenery is on another waterway from Alappuzha that leads up to the ancient port of Kollam, winding up the Pampa river to the island hamlet of Chempakkulam and then into the Kuttan, believed to be of the Buddha, beside the ruins of an ancient Buddhist settlement.

North East Circuit - A misty dawn on the mountains. A bronze sunset across the expanse of the Brahmaputra. The clang of prayer bells at a monastery. Life moves at a serene pace in the North East. The North East is composed of seven states whose natural beauty has earned them the sobriquet of'seventh sisters'. Assam, Nagaland, Arunachal Pradesh, Manipur, Tripura, Mizoram and Meghalaya have been generously blessed by nature. Verdant valleys, emerald tea gardens, lush forests and tumultuous rivers blend to create magnificent landscapes. You begin your travel at the picturesque city of Gangtok, capital of Sikkim, where orchids bloom on the hillside. Then journey to Guwahati, Kohima, Shillong, - the incomparable jewels of the North East. With salubrious climate, fascinating customs, beautiful handicrafts and the warm welcome of its gentle people.
Rajasthan is India’s second largest state, located on its north-western border with Pakistan. It is surrounded by the states of Gujarat, Uttar Pradesh, Madhya Pradesh, Haryana and Punjab. Rajasthan is bisected by the Aravalli hills, dividing it into two distinct landscapes. On the west is Rajasthan’s unique feature, the Thar Desert an area of sand, scrub and thorn. Rajasthan is a vibrant state where tradition and history blend with contemporary life styles. People are proud of their heritage and yet open to change western values. For many, Rajasthan is the very essence of India, with crenelated forts and impregnable palaces that rise like giant fairy-tale sets above dusty sun-scorched plains and shimmering lakes. The magic of Rajasthan is unequalled in the world for its heritage, culture, safaris, sand dunes and lush green forests with its wildlife. Rajasthan is often expressed as huge open-air museum with relic so well preserved for the travelers and the curious of the day.

The culture of Rajasthan is defined by the Rajputana kingdoms that ruled it for centuries; the word Rajput meaning sons of royalty. The Thar Desert region saw the Desert Kingdoms of Marwar (modern Jodhpur), Jaisalmer, and Bikaner. The east saw the kingdoms of Mewar (modern Chittor and Udaipur), Amber (modern Amber and Jaipur), and Hadoti (modern Bundi, Kota and Jhalawar) among many others. As a result, Rajasthan has a larger concentration of forts, palaces, and royal riches than any other place in India. This is the reason why tourism is a primary pillar of the economy; apart from agriculture and cattle rearing. Several palaces or abandoned fortresses have been converted to Heritage Hotels to attract visitors and provide an income for the erstwhile princes.

It is action-packed with outdoors too; take a safari on horses, camels, elephants or even jeeps with the Aravalis - India’s oldest mountain range in the backdrop, or caress your eyes on the sloppy sand dunes, or trail a tiger or just watch birds on wetland. Or you can choose to pamper yourself in the lavish heritage properties. Rajasthan has something for everyone. The capital Jaipur, with its many imposing buildings made of rosy sandstone, is called Pink City. The City Palace complex and Hawa Mahal are examples of Rajasthani-Mughal architecture. The old parts of town offer shopping such as jewellery, hand-dyed clothes, precious stones and craftwork. Jaipur has an international airport. Udaipur has many lakes, lakeside palaces, and the largest palace complex (City Palace) in Rajasthan. Jaisalmer fort is made of yellow sandstone such that it’s called the Golden Fort. Jaisalmer also gives access to pristine sand dunes of Sam and Khuri, with camel safaris and nomadic music. The Amber Fort (near Jaipur, 16th century); the Chittor Fort; Junagarh Fort (at Bikaner); Mehrangarh Fort, (at Jodhpur, 15th century) are among the main fortress attractions.

The Shekhawati region in the north east offers painted havelis belonging to old business families. Rathnambore and Sariska National Parks are for tiger reserves while Keoladeo Ghana National Park (or Bharatpur) is a bird-rich wetland, where over 375 species of migratory birds visit each year. Mt Abu is the only hill station in Rajasthan. Come here to witness the rich historical treasure, picturesque architecture and the dazzling landscapes, which is an unparallel touring destination in the entire globe.

Kerala - God's Own Country

Indian Horizons

Kerala - The God's own country is a narrow, fertile strip of land on the south-west coast of India. Strategically located at the south western tip of India, Kerala enjoys unique geographic features which has made it one of the most sought after tourist destinations in Asia. The state is a breathtakingly beautiful green, greenland. Kerala in India is immensely blessed by nature with lush vegetation, tranquil beaches, stunning mountains, hill station, wildlife and bird sanctuary, forts and palaces, pilgrim centres, festivals and has a network of 44 major rivers and lakes on the backwater system. Some of the famous wildlife sanctuaries in Kerala are Thekkady in Idukki, Parambikulam in Palakkad, Sultan Bathery in Wayand district etc. The Periyar National Park is Kerala's one of the best wild life sanctuaries. Kerala has a fascinating heritage of art and culture. 'Kathakali', a rhythmic dance based on ancient epics and 'Kalarippayattu' the worlds oldest martial art are known all over the world. Kalarippayattu is said to be the origin of all other martial arts in this world. Tourist flock the shores of Kerala to learn these art. Some of the other art forms are 'Koothu', 'Koodiyattam', 'Mohiniyattam', 'Ottamthullal'.

One of the most memorable experiences for the tourist visiting Kerala is the opportunity to enjoy the backwaters of Kerala on a house boat (Kettuvallam). The boats cross shallow palm -hinged lakes studded with cantilevered Chinese fishing nets and cruise along the narrow shady canals. On the way one can see the real Kerala village life. Alappuzha or Alleppey is an important tourist centre in Kerala because of its amazing backwaters. A number of boat races are conducted every year.

Even the Kerala cuisine is known for its spicy and hot foods. Traditionally, in Kerala food is served on a banana leaf. Almost every dish prepared in Kerala has coconut and spices to flavour the local cuisine giving it a sharp pungency that is heightened with the use of tamarind, while coconut gives it its richness, absorbing some of the tongue-teasing, pepper-hot flavours. Kerala's equable climate, natural abundance of forests and the cool monsoon season (Jun Nov) are the best suited for Ayurveda's curative and restorative packages. Ayurveda is widely practiced in Kerala due to its rich traditional heritage and medicinal herbs found in abundance.

Hospitality is a part of Kerala's culture and are the best host one can see in this world. In Kerala you will experience freshness and touch of mother earth every where. No wonder it is rightly called "God's Own Country".

India is the land where Buddhism originated. Lord Buddha was an Indian prince who abandoned all materialistic pleasures to find the real truth of life. His teachings today have immense significance. A whole lot of people wish to know not only about his life but also about the status of Buddhism in the country of its origin in past as well as present.

Buddhism offers four major sites of pilgrimage: the Buddha's birthplace at Kapilavastu, the site where he attained Enlightenment Bodh Gaya, where he first preached at Benaras, and where he achieved Parinirvana at Kusinagara. Some Buddhist pilgrimage sites in India are listed below:

- Bodh Gaya, Bihar - The site of the enlightenment of Gautama Buddha Sarnath, outside Varanasi, Bihar - The site of the first sermon Kushinagar, Uttar Pradesh - the site of the Buddha's parinibbana These are three of the four holiest sites in Buddhism. The fourth, Lumbini, the birthplace of the Buddha, is now in southern Nepal.

- Patna, Bihar - Formerly known as Pataliputra, it was the seat of the Mauryan empire and a significant Buddhist centre. Rajgir, Bihar - Formerly known as Rajagaha, it was the capital of Magadha, ruled by King Bimbisara, one of the most prominent monarchs and supporters during the lifetime of the Buddha. Nalanda, Bihar - Site of an ancient Buddhist university, destroyed by Bakhtiyar Khalji during Islamic attacks. Sravasti Uttar Pradesh - Formerly known as Savathi, it was the capital of Kosala, ruled by King Pasenadi, one of the most prominent monarchs and supporters during the lifetime of the Buddha.

Sanchi, Madhya Pradesh - Site of a large stupa built by Asoka, it also stored the relics of Sariputra and Mahamoggallana, the two chief disciples of the Buddha. Ajanta and Ellora, Maharashtra - the site of intricate cave paintings depicting Buddhism. Nagarjunakonda and Amaravati, Andhra Pradesh - former sites of Buddhist education. There are a proliferation of Tibetan Buddhist sites in northern India, in the Himalayan foothills viz., Tawang, Arunachal Pradesh Rumtek, Sikkim Dharamsala, Himachal Pradesh, Tabo, Himachal Pradesh Leh, Ladakh.

From the point of entry into India at one of the four metros, Delhi, Kolkata, Chennai, or Mumbai it is best for the visitor to travel to either Patna in Bihar or Varanasi in Uttar Pradesh, before proceeding to the 4 sacred Buddhist sites.

They are both well connected by air and rail to all the metros and make ideal gateways for visiting the sacred sites. Patna and Varanasi, the ancient Indian towns of Pataliputra and Kashi were also thriving townships during the Buddha's lifetime. Keeping this in mind, the next two chapters are on Patna and Varanasi.

The charming land of India, has a long coastline measuring 6,700 Kms. The coastline of India has some of finest beaches in the world. The serene beaches in India is a perfect destination for a romantic honeymoon, a holiday and an ideal vacation. The Indian beaches offer numerous beach activities and also satisfy the urge of adventure enthusiasts. Travel to following popular beaches in India and make your tour to India an unforgettable experience. Sun, surf and sand beckon thousands of sun-deprived tourists to India because it has the most mind-boggling beaches seen anywhere in the world. Placid lagoons and backwaters, marine estuaries teeming with fish, bays and rough lava-rocked seas, crashing surf, pure powdery golden sands or palm-fringed shores where the mind is soothed by the serene murmurs of the sea - you have them all. The sea applauds the beach temple in Mahabalipuram, gloriously silhouetted against the spectrum of the seven colours in the sky, park, on the east coast, is surely the world's most picturesque beach. And then there is Digha, a three-hour drive out of Kolkata, a beautiful beach, splendid in its isolation. Both the west and east coasts of India offer verdant vistas of palm on the Arabian Sea shores or the Bay of Bengal. The coasts of India have their own seafood cuisine, relaxing spas, diving and water sports and great places to stay for a balmy holiday. The Serene beaches in India is a perfect destination for a romantic honeymoon, a holiday and an ideal vacation.

Lakshadweep Island: The Lakshadweep island lie on the Arabian Sea. A timeless undiscovered treasure comprising 36 reefs and coral atolls - untouched and unspoilt. Very little is known about them and this adds to the sense of adventure for visitors.

The first glimpse of the island is about one and half hours flight from Cochin airport to the mainland Agatti. Everything you expect of a tropical paradise is here: Deserted sandy beaches, stretches of coconut palm trees, endless sunshine and above all the clear blue waters of the coral lagoons.

Bangaram Island: The Jewel of the Lakshadweep, Bangaram Island is an uninhabited haven. Here, the only residents are the resort staff. Bangaram presents a breathtaking spectacle of sparkling coral reefs, turquoise blue lagoons, silvery beaches and lush green coconut palms. All preserved in the state little different from the days of Charam Perumal's reign. The world's to best secret beaches (Sunday Times Travel Magazine Feb 8th 2004) that is just an hours' flight from Kerala's cultural capital of Cochin. This teardrop shaped piece of land is encircled by creamy sand. For a perfect outing, there are three uninhabited islands in the same atoll, Tinnakara, Parali-I and Parali-II. The deep, warm, clear waters of Indian Ocean with its myriad flora and fauna are an irresistible invitation to the scuba diving fraternity of the world. The exquisite coral formation including the black coral formations, the variety and number of coral fishes the angel, the clown, the butterfly, the surgeon not to mention awesome looking but harmless sharks, mantarays, sting rays moray eels and turtles make diving at Bangaram an addictive experience. The virgin reefs of Bangaram have been ranked by experienced divers as being among the best anywhere. Bangaram island offers a whole new set of activities. More unhurried can simply laze on the silver beaches, soak in the sun, listen to the sound of the waves and watch the swaying of the palms. The island feels like it was designed specifically for languid strolls, to watch the beach dances of hermit.

Crabs and listen to the raucous music of the seabirds.

Agatti Island: The Gateway of Lakshadweep, Agatti Island is located 459 kms. from Cochin. Agatti and its satellite islands of Bangaram, Thinnakara, Parali-I & Parali-II present a breathtaking spectacle of sparkling coral reefs, turquoise blue lagoons, silvery beaches and lush green coconut palms that sway to the rhythm of the sea. Agatti is the only island with an airport. The sea around the island offers excellent scope for water sports and fishing. Coral growths and multi coloured coral fishes are abound in its lagoons. There are facilities for Scuba Diving, Snorkeling, Water Skiing, Sailboats, day and night fishing trips, Sightseeing and Excursions to near by uninhabited islands at Bangaram, Thinnakara, Parali Islands and Kalpitty. We also arrange night turtle watch and or night stay on a floating boat at open sea or at uninhabited Kalppiti island. Uninhabited islands of Bangaram, Thinnakara, Parali-I and Parali-II are just a hop away.

Andaman & Nicobar Island: Andaman & Nicobar, the Emerald Islands, consisting of two island group lies east of the mainland between the Bay of Bengal and the Andaman Sea. Its southernmost island is only 200 km (120 mi) from the northern tip of the Indonesian island of Sumatra. Pygmalion Point also known as Parsons Point which has since been renamed as "Indira Point" is the southernmost tip of India and not "Kanyakumari" as is popularly known. The island of Katchall at the southern end was in the news in 1999 as the first rays of the sun of Jan. 1, 2000 were believed to hit it. The archipelago of 572 emerald islands, islets and rocks known as the Andaman and Nicobar Islands. The Andamans are separated from the Nicobars to the south by the Ten Degree Channel, which is 145 km (90mi) wide. This Union Territory is spread over a distance nearly 800 Kms. from North to South with 38 inhabited islands. A hill range extending from Burma (Myanmar) to Indonesia, these undulating islands are covered with dense forests and an endless variety of exotic flora & fauna. The untouched and pristine marine life, corals, crystal clear water, mangrove forests and birds offer a dream view of the rare gifts of nature. The capital is Port Blair on Andaman Islands.

Port Blair: The Jail Island, Port Blair was infamous for "Kala pani", a jail-sentence in an island surrounded by water during the British Days. One can enjoy the Sound and Light shows, held every weekdays to learn about the brutality and history of the prison. Corbyns's cave (7 km) is the nearest beach to Port Blair but is risky for swimming. Some of the other major attractions in the island are Samudrika Marine Museum, Anthropological Museum, Mini Zoo and Forest Museum, Water Sports Complex, Ross Island, Wandoor (29 km) and Chiriy Tapu (30 Km).

Lush greenery surrounded by water and only a handful of people make Port Blair a natural and exotic island full of flora and fauna. The Union territory capital is obsessed with rain forests and excessive bio diversity. Connected though an airport and port, Port Blair is not a thickly populated place, with a population of about 3.5 lakh. Main languages of Port Blair are Hindi, Nicobarese, Malayalam, Tamil, Telugu and Bengali.

Havelock: Havelock Island is 21 nautical miles away from Port Blair. It is one of the 36 inhabited islands in the Andaman and Nicobar archipelago. It is an excellent place to bask in camping and angling holidays. The exotic and exclusive Havelock Island is considerably small in size but it is a haven of numerous beautiful beaches. In this island nation beaches are given numbers than names to address. In this picturesque island although the pace of life is slow but the locals are friendly and unaffected by tourism. One can enjoy the most basic facilities available on this island. However, it can be said that being so remote and away this island still fulfills your very basic requirements and needs. On Havelock Island you can take delight in various seafood and local Indian food. There are a few hotels, restaurants, dhabas and snack stands. Snack stands serve delicious samosas and sweets.

Beaches in India

Kovalam Beach: On the Malabar coast along the Kerala shore line is a small village, called Kovalam. This sleepy town suddenly came on the tourist map when its fabulous beaches were discovered. Today Kovalam has become one of the most popular beach hangouts in India. Kovalam means a grove of coconut trees and truly the coconut trees along the beaches gives it a ravishing look.

The palm-fringed bays in secluded coconut groves, promise a relaxed stay. The boundless blue waters of the Arabian Sea and miles of white sands washed away by the surf at the feet of the stalwart palms and the rocky promontories, makes this beach paradise. This marvellous beach is a tourist's dream come true.

Varkala Beach: Varkala Beach is about 54 Km north from Thrivuvanthapuram, the capital of Kerala. Varkala Beach is a tranquil and isolated sandy stretch where you can have a relaxing beach holiday. As compared to other beaches of Kerala, without the crowds and bustle of some of the busier beaches in Kerala. Enjoy the back stretches of Varkala Beach while on Kerala beach tours with Kerala Backwater.

Varkala Beach has a number of tourist attractions at close proximity. The mineral springs near Varkala Beach are considered to have medicinal properties and many people come here to drink and bathe in the water from the mineral springs. The Varkala Beach is also called Papanasam Beach because it is believed that bathing here will wash away all one's sins.

Mahabalipuram: Mahabalipuram, also known as "Mahapalipuram" is located 58-km, south of Chennai, nestling on the shores of the Bay of Bengal, offers many breath-taking monuments with Sculptural Panels, Caves, Monolithic Raths (chariots) and Temples. The spectacular beach of Mahabalipuram attracts thousands of tourists all through the year. While at the beach you may sun bathe, relax and unwind yourself. At the same time you may explore the magnificent monuments besides the beautiful beaches. The dreamy rock cut art is an amazingly extravagant. For the more ecclesiastical tourists there are the temples besides the shores, rathas, Arjuna's penance that are exclusive to the region. A crocodile bank, snake venom extracting centre, schools of art and sculpture and a wide spectrum of resorts along the beach entice holiday-seekers all round the year. Mahabalipuram may be easily reached. Mahabalipuram is well linked through air, rail and road networks. The nearest airport of Chennai connects Mahabalipuram with the other main cities of India and the world through frequent air flights and trains. In terms of the road transport buses knit the terrestrial network of Mangalore (7 hr by bus) and 56km southwest of Karwar on the seashore.

Mararikulam: Mararikulam, one of the local fishing villages, where life still goes on much as it did a hundred years ago, with the men going out to sea each day to earn a living bringing in the daily catch. Completely new to the holiday maker. Mararikulam originates from "Mararakulam ", one of the local fishing villages, where life still goes on much as it did a hundred years ago, with the men going out to sea each day to earn a living bringing in the daily catch. Completely new to the holiday maker. Mararikulam offers endless miles of superb sand beaches backed by swaying palms, virgin territory where you can experience the local charm and traditional Kerala Hospitality at its best. Not that you need to spend the whole of your holiday in seclusion! You couldn't be in a better location for exploring the marvellous backwaters, where the tranquility, the stunning.

Gopalpur Beach Orissa: One of the most pristine beaches of Orissa, this small beach is a splendid retreat for sea worshippers, located about 16-km from Berhampur. Once a humming seaport, Gopalpur offers its visitors a slice of serenity in environs that are conducive to introspection and conviviality.

One can still see the crumbling walls and pillars of the jetty, witness to its past glory of commercial activity. The pleasures of the Blue Beach and the Blue Bay of her backwaters continue to lure the water babies. Gopalpur-on-Sea is a surfer's delight and excellent for sailing.

This is the one beach that is as yet, not exposed much to tourism and hence still unspoiled. If you are looking for a quiet holiday in the lap of nature, the beach at Gopalpur awaits you. A golden beach hinged by sand dunes and ruins of an old jetty hom where, in medieval times, sailors set out to Indonesia., make this an ideal place for a relaxing holiday. A perfect beach, fairly isolated and undisturbed by the day-trippers.

Gokarna Beach: The traditional houses and temples, narrow streets-Gokarna has become the favorite haunt of Hindu pilgrims, Sanskrit scholars and beach buffs. Gokarna is about 200km north of Mangalore (7 hr by bus) and 56km southwest of Karwar on the seashore.

It is believed that Gokarna derives its name from a legend in which Lord Shiva emerged from the ear of a cow. Literally meaning cows on the Malabar coast along the Kerala shore line, this village is formed by the ear-shaped confluence of two rivers. Adventurous travelers must be prepared for a bit of cliff-scrambling in this coastal town. The most popular time to visit is between January and February. The four of the most beautiful beaches in India are located south of Gokarna, in the jungle. The first beach is called Kudle Beach, and it is about a twenty-minute walk from Gokarna. To get to Kudle, take the path that starts on the south side of the Ganapati Temple. The path goes uphill and then drops down to Kudle Beach, a beautiful, kilometer-long white sand beach surrounded by palm trees. At this beach there are simple huts and beach side eating places. You need to bring your own bedding. There is fresh water here.

The next beach is OM Beach, thirty-minutes further south. The beach got its name because it is shaped like the auspicious Om sign. There are some really basic huts and some chai shops to eat at. Many Indian pilgrims visit OM Beach on Sundays by bus and holidays to see the sites. Best to come here on the weekdays.

There are two more beaches Half-moon and Paradise, each a thirty-minute walk from one another. You can get bottled water and food on all the beaches near Gokarna including the Main beach, Kudle, Om, Half Moon and Paradise beaches.
The Indian wildlife heritage has a unique status worldwide. India is home to a rich diversity of wildlife supplemented by an equally rich variety of flora and fauna. The sight and sounds of a majestic elephant, a peacock’s dance, the stride of a camel, the roar of a tiger are unparalleled experiences in themselves. Watching birds and animals in their natural habitats is an experience in itself.

It has the second largest base of biodiversity in the world, with 441 Wildlife Sanctuaries and 80 National Parks, which have become destinations for visitors from all around the world. The Kaziranga Game Sanctuary is an ideal habitat for the rhino and a popular destination with the naturalists and environmentalists as well as the wildlife traveller. The Great Indian Bustard and blackbuck of the Karera Sanctuary also attract a lot of tourists. The Madhav National Park originally called the Shivpuri National Park is another rich habitat for the wildlife in close proximity to the historical town of Gwalior and being close to a often visited cultural and heritage destination enjoys its fare share of tourism inflow. India has its fair share of Tiger Reserves. India’s National Animal, the tiger happens to be a symbol of strength and speed. India boasts of two-dozen Tiger Reserves. The fastest mammal on Earth, the tiger happens to be the joy and pride of India. The Royal Bengal tiger is amongst the most majestic species of the tiger. Sixty percent of the total population of the wild tigers in the world resides in India. Amongst the best-known tiger reserves in India is the Bandhavgarh in Madhya Pradesh. It is often referred to as the crown in the wildlife heritage of India. Tourists at Bandhavgarh can spot Royal Bengal Tigers, cheetals, leopard, gaur, sambhar, and many more faunal species. The highly successful Project Tiger has shown once again that man can only undo in small ways the loss and destruction of natural habitat due to continuous growth and expansion of the population. Also, India’s wildlife sanctuaries which cover about 90,000 sq km house more than 500 species of mammals, over 2000 species of birds, over 500 species of reptiles and amphibians and around 30000 species of insects!

Wildlife sanctuaries were established in India in the pursuit of conserving Indian wildlife, which was suffering due to ecological imbalances caused due to human activities such as farming, lumber activities, hydel projects, etc. The Wildlife Act and the Forest Act ensure protection of wildlife and generate environmental consciousness among people. The wildlife sanctuaries in India have become centers of wildlife and tourism, and have carved a niche for themselves.
Indian Horizons

Taj, Tigers and Temples Tour

16 Nights / 17 Days

Day 01 Arrive Delhi You will be met and assisted by Indian Horizons representative on arrival in Delhi and transferred to your hotel. The rest of the day is at leisure.

Day 02 Delhi After breakfast in the morning proceed for the full day city tour of Old & New Delhi with Indian Horizons Guide.

Day 03 To Jabalpur Spend the day in Delhi visiting some lesser-known monuments like Lotus Temple of Bahai religion, Lakshmi Narayan Temple and National Museum. Relax in the afternoon and get prepared for a long overnight journey to Jabalpur. Leave your hotel in the evening and arrive at the railway station, where you will be assisted by our representative to board your sleeper. Jabalpur lies in the huge central state of India, Madhya Pradesh, about 106 miles from Kanha Tiger Reserve.

Day 04 To Kanha On arrival at Jabalpur station, travel a short distance to visit Chausath Yogini Mandir, a 10th-century temple with stone carvings and enjoy a boat ride to see the Marble Rocks; these white rocks, with views of black! dark green volcanic seams, rise to 30 m on either side of the Narmada River and provide a picturesque breath of fresh air after the overnight rail journey. After a quick breakfast, drive to Kanha. On arrival at Kanha, check in at your resort and if time permits, an afternoon game drive in the Park may bring your first Tiger encounter.

Day 05, 06 In Kanha There will be two safaris everyday in the park and one each on the day we check-in and check-out. Early mornings and late afternoons are best for birdwatching; binoculars are an invaluable aid to the watcher.

Day 07 To Bandhavgarh Morning drive to another of India’s tiger reserves known as BANDAVGARH. This is a small National Park; compact, yet full of game. The density of the Tiger population at Bandhavgarh is the highest known in India. If time permits, enjoy an afternoon jungle safari.

Day 08, 09 In Bandhavgarh Like in Kanha, here too enjoy two safaris everyday and one each on check-in and check-out days.

Day 10 TO KHAJURAHO A 6 to 7 hours drive will bring us today to the world famous temples of Khajuraho, known for their erotic sculpture on the walls. In the temple architecture of India, the Khajuraho complex remains unique. One thousand years ago, under the generous and artistic patronage of the Chandela Raghut kings of Central India, 85 temples, magnificent in form and richly carved, came up on one site, near the village of Khajuraho. The amazingly short span of too years, from 950 AD - 1050 AD, saw the completion of all the temples, in an inspired burst of creativity. Today, of the original 85, only 22 have survived the ravages of time; these remain as a collective paean to life, to joy and to creativity; to the ultimate fusion of man with his creator.

Day 11 In Khajuraho Spend the full day today walking around in the temple complex near your hotel. The temples of Khajuraho are divided into three geographical groups: Western, Eastern and Southern. The Western group is certainly the best known, because it is to this group that the largest and most typical Khajuraho temple belongs: The Kandariya Mahadev. Perfectly symmetrical, it soars 31 m high. Though the four temples that stand at the corners of the main shrine are now in ruins, the main shrine has an exquisitely carved entrance arch with a multitude of themes. Celestial beings, lovers serenading musicians... movements captured in stone...frozen in time, yet retaining a quality of warmth, pulsating life. The very stone seems to have taken on the living, breathing quality of the carved figures.

Day 12 To Orchha and To Agra Drive 190 kms to Jhansi to connect your train to Agra in the evening. 25kms before Jhansi you will stop at ORCHHA, a medieval city frozen in time and space, existing to this day, as it must have in the 17th century. After the sightseeing continue your drive to the station and connect Shatabdi Express train to Agra, arriving at 2000hrs. Transfer to your hotel for overnight stay.

Day 13 In Agra After breakfast in morning half day city tour of Agra city with Indian Horizons Guide. Visit the red sandstone Agra Fort, which stands like a crescent on the banks of the Yamuna River enclosed by forbidding 20-meter high walls, with a 12-meter moat between them. Three successive Mughal emperors - Akbar, Jahangir and Shah Jehan - helped create this massive structure which contains Hindu and Muslim architecture. Then proceed for the famous white marble mausoleum, which was built in the middle of the 17th century by the Moghul emperor Shah Jehan for his wife Mumtaz Mahal. Visit the Taj Mahal surely the greatest monument to love and one of the wonders of the modern world. Rest of the day is at leisure. Overnight is at the Hotel.

Day 14 To Varanasi In time transfer to the airport to board a short flight to Varanasi. From airport, straight proceed for a guided excursion to Sarnath - where lord Buddha preached his Sarnath - where lord Buddha preached his first sermon. A major Buddhist centre, Sarnath lies 10 kilometres north east of Varanasi. It was here that Buddha preached his message of the 'middle way' to nirvana after achieving enlightenment at Bodhgaya. In around 234 BC, Emperor Ashoka, a great follower of Buddhism, erected a stupa here. Between the 3rd century BC and the 11th century AD, several Buddhist structures were built here in Sarnath. Most of the Sarnath's monuments are set in large gardens making it quite pleasant for a visitor to spend some time here. Later check-in at your hotel.

Day 15 In Varanasi Early in the morning, enjoy a boat ride on the River Ganges. The most important facet of this holy city is the river and the ghats lining its southern bank in the city. From dawn to dusk, the ghats are thronged by thousands of devotees, who perform their holy rituals in the hope of attaining salvation, the "Nirvana" Also visit temples like Kashi Vishwanath temple - dedicated to Lord Shiva; Bharat Mata Mandir - dedicated to Mother India; Durga temple dedicated to Goddess Durga; Alangir mosque originally a temple dedicated to Vishnu but now an odd mixture of Hindu and Muslim architectural styles. Rest of the day is at leisure to walk around in the crowded lanes and by lanes.

Day 16 To Delhi Fly back to Delhi today and spend time in Delhi by the hotel's pool side.

Day 17 Departure Transfer to airport to connect onward flight.

Ayurveda the traditional form of Indian medicine was developed by ancient sages whose astute observations led to the development of constitutional medicine. This system of medicine stressed on the prevention of body ailments in addition to curing them. Ayurveda is more than just a medical system. It is a Science of Life. This system is known to promote positive health, natural beauty and long life. Ayurveda has eight specialized branches, namely internal medicine including gynaecology, surgery, the treatment of diseases of the head and neck, toxicology, paediatrics, psychiatry and rejuvenation therapy. In India, Ayurvedic spas can be found all over the country. The most famous Ayurveda Shalas are found in Kerala. Kerala's equable climate, natural abundance of forests (with a wealth of herbs and medicinal plants), and the cool monsoon season (June - November) are best suited for Ayurveda's curative and restorative packages. Today, it's a unique, indispensable branch of medicine - a complete naturalistic system that depends on the diagnosis of your body's vata, pitta and kapha - to achieve the right balance. Ayurveda believes in the treatment of not just the affected part, but also the individual as a whole. Making it the natural way to refresh yourself, eliminate all toxic imbalances from the body and thus regain resistance and good health. Ayurvedic Massages - Say “massage” in the context of an Asian country, and the first thoughts that come flooding in are those of the exotic massage parlours of Pattaya. But an Ayurvedic massage is the real thing. These are serious life-enriching massages, so be prepared to get some energetic flesh pounding.

From experts. While you soak in the Herbs you can watch the beaches of Vizhinjam packed with boats out to sail in the sunset. Look forward to being draped with pieces of linen, dipped in lukewarm herbal oils, all over the body by two to four trained therapists in a special rhythmic way. This goes on continuously for about 60 to 90 minutes per day for a period of 7 to 21 days, and is said to be an effective remedy for rheumatic diseases. It's supposed to be good for your nerves too and should pep up your overall energy levels as well. Yoga is an ancient Indian body of knowledge that dates back more than 5000 years ago. Yoga is about the union of a person's own consciousness and the universal consciousness. We can think of the union occurring between the mind, body and spirit. Ancient Yogis had a belief that in order for man to be in harmony with himself and his environment, he has to integrate the body, the mind, and the spirit. For these three to be integrated, emotion, action, and intelligence must be in balance. The Yogis formulated a way to achieve and maintain this balance and it is done through exercise, breathing, and Meditation - the three main Yoga structures. In Yoga, the body is treated with care and respect for it is the primary instrument in man's work and growth. Yoga Exercises improve circulation, stimulate the abdominal organs, and put pressure on the glandular system of the body, which can generally result to better health. Breathing techniques were developed based on the concept that breath is the source of life. In Yoga, students gain breathing control as they slowly increase their breathing. By focusing on their breathing, they prepare their minds for the next step - Meditation.

Cruise on the Ganges

Ganges or the River Ganga has been known for its significance as a holy river of India as well as the ultimate adventure point as far as water sports like river rafting are concerned. However a lesser known, but equally exciting adventure is 'Cruise on the Ganges' from Allahabad to Varanasi. Sailing down the Ganges - in a wooden country boat from Allahabad to Varanasi (both important pilgrimage sites in India with an ancient civilization of over 2000 years), is a leisurely trip with lots of fun. A soft adventure with an exclusive boat with boatman & kitchen crew, overnight stops on islands, the company of migratory birds and if you're really lucky then sightings of Gangetic Dolphins. This is the most colourful and interesting stretch of this legendary river. Beautiful landscape, simple country-side, people religiously flocking the river banks, old temples, migratory birds and above all camping on the virgin river islands with nobody around. A distance of just 125 kms between the two cities by straight road is covered in 5 days through a winding river course. Boats are common wooden country boats with couple of rows, a mast and two boatmen on each boat. On board there are mattresses and pillows and four people can easily relax while enjoying the landscape. The sitting area is covered with canvas roof. The cruise also includes camps on a deserted beach or island depending on the season. Small mountain dome-tents with carry-mattress are used. (Normally, people bring their own sleeping bags). Breakfast and dinner is served on the island but lunch and evening tea is always on board. Best period is from November to December 20 and from January to to March 15. There is a thick fog during end December and beginning January in North India, affecting navigation on the river and pictorial view. If you plan a trip from mid January to February, it would be a good idea to stop over for a day in Allahabad to visit the annual Magh Mela (a kind of baby Kumbh Mela start from Makar Sankranti till Mahashivratri) at the confluence of river Yamuna, Ganga and the mythical Saraswati. A tented township grows up on the banks of the river where thousands of devotees come for a holy dip, especially on some specific days like full moon or no moon.

Cruise on the Sunderbans

Sail on an adventurous trip through the amazing flora and fauna of the Sunderbans and that too in a luxury ship... it promises to be a memorable journey. The cruise package combines luxury with eco-tourism, adventure sports, leisure and a nature trek. The cruise ship will have facilities such as conferencing, Internet and mobile connectivity, global positioning systems, multi-cuisine restaurants, open air gymnasium, library and decks for sunbathing, star gazing, etc. Sundarbans, with its unique ecosystem is home to the famous Royal Bengal Tiger. It has been declared as a World Heritage Site by Unesco and is among the world's most biodiversity-rich regions. The Sunderbans attracts thousands of tourists each year. Indian Horizons Cruises takes you through the meandering rivers and the eerie creeks of Sunderbans to make your trip a thrilling one. This will give you the chance to be at one with nature and at the same time enjoy the luxuries provided by the cruise. The international standard facilities and the complete onboard service that the cruiser offers are exquisite. Indian Horizons Cruises wins your heart with its hospitality. The chefs onboard take care of your appetite and your tongue taste buds. The mouthwatering spread of dishes includes lobsters, fishes and other special sea-foods from all corners of the world. After munching on the delicious food, burn some calories at the cruise gym. You can also get an Ayurvedic treatment at the massage parlors or read at the library to spend some quiet quality time. The bar also enables you to have a great relaxing time. Visit the art gallery and also enjoy the onboard entertainment programs. The conference rooms with Internet connection and fax facilities are convenient for the corporate traveler. The ship, M.V.Paramhamsa is 53 meters in length and it houses a total of 32 cabins. The four-decked ship has an under deck, main deck, first deck and sun deck. The comfortable rooms of M.V.Paramhamsa are air-conditioned, spacious and possess attached baths for the convenience of its guests. The ship comes with 12 luxury rooms on the first deck and 20 deluxe rooms on the main deck. The rooms are equipped with telephone ample reading stuff, tea and coffee maker and even an emergency kit. Sail to the Sunderbans with Indian Horizons Cruises and experience the trip of your lifetime.

INDIAN HORIZONS is a premier golf tour specialist travel agency conducting golf incentive trips and corporate events. We can organize a Golf vacation for you that is a lifetime experience with the help of our trained golfers.

In India you can play golf almost anywhere, for golf is widely played by a cross-section of people in the country’s often-dramatic background. In the hills and high Himalayan vastness, in metropolitan cities and in small towns, by lakes and forests, or surrounded by tea estates, out in the desert and in old British cantonments... the flavour of India is visible everywhere that golf in the country is played. You can stroll off the course to share a cup of piping hot tea at a ‘dhaba’, tee off from the highest 18 hole course in the world, watch a peacock dance on a green or play on a course that is enriched by monuments and beautiful buildings. In India anything is possible, and playing golf here will enable you to experience the country in a unique manner. What makes golfing in India exciting is the diversity of its courses. Not only does it have the oldest golf club in the world outside Great Britain, but also the highest, at Gulmarg (altitude 2,700 metres) in Kashmir. There are golf courses in the mountains, plains, deserts and at beach resorts. The environment of each course is unique in its culture and history, highlighting all that makes India a diverse destination. In fact, it would not be wrong to say that one of the best ways to experience India is through its golf courses. Most of India’s courses are well connected by road, rail, and air, and have excellent accommodation facilities. Unfortunately, India still has to rely on the West for golfing equipment, and visitors are advised to carry their own sets, with an ample supply of golf balls.

Kathmandu - Pokhara - Tansen - Lumbini - Chitwan - Kathmandu

DAY 1: Arrive Kathmandu - Indian Horizons representative will meet you at arrival lounge of Kathmandu international airport. He will answer your questions, brief you about immediate arrangements and escort you to the hotel. Overnight at Kathmandu.

DAY 2: In Kathmandu - Morning city sightseeing tour with Indian Horizons guide visiting the Durbar Square, Hanuman Dhoka, the ancient royal residential quarter, Mahadev and Panrati Temple, Machhender Bahl-holy place for the Buddhists and Hindus, Temple House of Kumari, the vestal virgin or the living goddess. Walk around the local bazaars. Also visit Swayambunath, a 2500-year old site where, it is believed, the Radiant Lotus of the valley-mythology, settled when the water was drained by Manjushri, the god of Wisdom. The 5 dhyani Buddha's attended by their consorts are enshrined at the base of the stupa. (Non-Hindus are not allowed inside Swayambunath temple). In the afternoon visit Patan. In Patan visit the old Newar City, the historic Durbar Square, the Golden Gate, the sky piercing temple of Teleju and the statue of Yogendra Malla, other temples, old carved windows and balconies of wood, curie shops and bazaars. Overnight at Kathmandu

DAY 3: Kathmandu-Pokhara, Morning drive to Pokhara. On arrival in Pokhara, check in at the hotel. Afternoon explore Pokhara, sightseeing of Devis fall and lake Phewa. Locally known as the Patale Chhango (Hell's Fall). Devi's fall is a lovely waterfall lying about 2 km southwest of the Pokhara airport. Phewa Lake, the second largest lake in the Kingdom, is the center of all attraction in Pokhara. Here, one can sail or row ahired boat across across to the water or visit the island temple in its middle. Overnight at Pokhara

DAY 4: Pokhara-Tansen - Morning leave for Tansen. On arrival in Tansen, check in at the hotel. Overnight at Tansen

DAY 5: Tansen-Lumbini - Morning departure by air for Lumbini. On arrival in Lumbini, transfer to your hotel. Later explore Lumbini, the birthplace of Buddha who was born around 2500 years ago, with Indian Horizons guide. The Rummindie Pillar, raised in 249 BC, marks this sacred spot. Also unearthed are four gateways, defense wallsand a wealth of coins and artifacts. Beside the Ashokan Pillar and the Maya Devi Temple, plinths of huge temples allid a pond, where the infant and his mother bathed, have been unearthed. Overnight at Lumbini

DAY 6: Lumbini-Chitwan - Morning drive to Chitwan. On arrival in Chitwan, check in at your resort. In the afternoon proceed for a tour to Tharu Village and witness the Tharu Cultural Performance. Overnight at Chitwan

DAY 7: In Chitwan - An elephant ride take you around the jungle for an hour and half. There are two trips a day, one in the morning at eight and another at four in the afternoon. Jeep safaris are also very popular they take you around for four hours. A great way to spot wildlife in areas further inside the Park, which is less trodden. Canoeing along the Rapti river is another option. With some luck you will get to see Gharial crocodiles, marsh muggers, and variety of fish. With a lot of luck you may be able to see a Gangetic dolphin. The trip is a paradise for birdwatchers with possible spotting of kingfishers, ospreys, and egrets. Chitwan is known to have 400 species of birds. Jungle walks through the jungle is a good way to spot game. Monkeys, birds and deer are assured; rhinos are less common (but not uncommon). They can help you stay safe as well as point out interesting things. Overnight at Chitwan.

DAY 8: Chitwan-Kathmandu - Morning drive to Kathmandu. On arrival in Kathmandu, check in at the hotel. Rest of the day at leisure. Overnight at Kathmandu.

DAY 9: In Kathmandu - Morning excursion to Bhadgaon, Bodhnath and Pashupatinath. Bhadgaon - another Newar city founded in the 7th century. Visit the ancient Gateway, Durbar Square the Royal Residential quarter of Bhupatindra Malla, the famous five-storied temple of Nyatapola in pagoda style and other temples. Later, visit Bodhnath, the 2500-year old Buddhist Stupa, a holy place for Buddhist pilgrims from Tibet. Also visit Pashupatinath temple where Shiva is worshipped in the form of lingam. (Only Hindus are allowed inside). In the month of February an annual pilgrimage on the occasion of Shivaratri is organized here every year. Overnight at Kathmandu

DAY 10: Depart Kathmandu - It's time to bid farewell. Indian Horizons representative will meet you and transfer you to Kathmandu airport in time to board flight for home.

Bhutan, known locally as Druk-Yul or‘Land of the Thunder Dragon’, lies along the lofty ridges of the Eastern Himalayas, bordered by Tibet to the North and by India to the South, East and West. Bhutan is comparable in both size and topography to Switzerland and its location in the mighty Himalayas has protected it from the rest of the world and left it blissfully untouched through the centuries.

Bhutan is a landlocked Buddhist Himalayan Kingdom with an unblemished culture and an appreciation of their own traditions and identity. The Drukpa Kagyupa school of Mahayana Buddhism is prevalent and has left the country with a rich culture and a fascinating history. The Bhutanese people have protected this sacred heritage and unique identity for centuries by choosing to remain shrouded in a jealously guarded isolation. The Pare Valley is the most fertile of all Bhutan's towns, with a scattering of traditional homes coupled with new houses built in traditional styles. Its impressive Dzong (Fortress Monastery) towers above the town. On a full-day trip, it’s possible to visit the Taktsang Monastery (Tiger's Nest), built on a 7,000-ft/n,000-m rock ledge overlooking the Pare Valley. It is accessible only by a narrow footpath. According to legend the monastery was founded by Guru Rimpochhe, who landed there on the back of a flying tiger. The thunder dragon is a trekker's paradise and an environmentalist's dream. With 72 percent of the country under forest cover, Bhutan's pristine ecology is home to rare and endangered flora and fauna. This spiritual land is the last bastion of the Vajrayana school of Mahayana Buddhism which provides the essence of a unique identity for the 750,000 people. Bhutan is a unique blend of the old and new. Here is a country that is slowly opening up to the modern world in a fine balance with its ancient traditions. Those fortunate enough to visit Bhutan describe it as a unique, deeply spiritual and mystical experience. This kingdom is an adventure like no other. Spring is the most beautiful time of the year in the kingdom. The fierce cold that characterises the winter months tends to subside towards the end February (around Bhutanese New Year, Lhosar). At the height of spring, the end of March, the whole kingdom comes to life with the spectacular flaming red, pink and white of Rododendrom blossom.

Some 200 miles southwest of Sri Lanka and the southern tip of India across the equator lie approximately 1,000 tiny coral islands - the Maldives. Scattered across the Indian Ocean, these islands with their white sandy beaches, turquoise lagoons, vivid coral reefs and colorful fish are home to a gentle, friendly people. A very private and longstanding Muslim culture, which is independent of Middle East influence, is a testament to the diversity of religious practices in different countries. These mostly uninhabited islands, some small enough to walk around in minutes, offer a paradise which is idyllic and unspoiled. There are nearly 10 outstanding island resort options and luxury ‘safari’ boats for diving and cruising.

The superb underwater reefs surrounding the islands are pristine, as the islanders practice hand-line fishing to catch primarily tuna, a staple of the islands. Other fish remain friendly and untouched, ready to dazzle you with their colors and variety amidst the coral in this diver’s paradise. Reef life is prolific, with over 700 common fish species; invertebrate species are thought to be in their tens of thousands. For the sharp-eyed diver there are encounters with species like frogfish, leaf fish, ghost pipefish and a multitude of nudibranchs. Whether it’s the sight of the awesome manta ray, being face-to-face with a grey reef shark or spotting a tiny, brightly colored flatworm, the Maldives has it all. But if you are a sun worshipper who loves to take it slow and easy, then the Maldives is your ideal retreat. Whether you are diving or at ease, the beauty of the region is inescapable and intoxicating. You will simply never want to leave. Sun, sand and sea, a thousand ‘Robinson Crusoe’ islands, massive lagoons with different depths and infinite shades of blue and turquoise, dazzling underwater coral gardens; a perfect natural combination for the ideal tropical holiday destination. However there is more to the Maldives than just that. The chain of 1190 little coral islands scattered across the Indian Ocean that forms the archipelago of the Maldives is 80-120 km wide. Only 201 islands are inhabited by the local people, and 83 islands are developed exclusively as tourist resorts, while the rest are uninhabited. The Summer never ends in the Maldives. Although it is warm throughout the year there are slight variations in the temperature during certain periods determined by the monsoons. The Northeast monsoons, from November to April is mostly dry with very little wind, while the Southwest monsoon from May to October brings some rain and wind. Being on the equator, the monsoons are mild and the temperature varies very little. The annual average daily temperature is between 30-4 and 25-4 degrees Celsius. The average rainfall is below 100 per annum.
Marco Polo described the island of Sri Lanka as "the finest in the world." And now this land just off the southeast tip of India, with its combination of beaches and rolling hills, phenomenal historical destinations and multi-ethnic cuisine - is remarkable. With the fortunate position of being at peace once more, Sri Lanka has been granted certain hope for the future of tourism, and is a perfect combination with Maldives.

Colombo is the place where Sri Lanka's hustle and bustle takes place. This is the place where the commercial heart beats. The northern part of the city is the fort area. There you can find - if you look real hard - the British fort, dating from the 19th century, and other remnants of the former colonial power. When you set off for Galle, which was the capital city when the Dutch ruled before the British invaded the Pearl of the Orient. Here you can visit the world heritage fort complex.

The hotel selection ranges from hospitable to extravagant. There are few international chains, so most accommodations are locally owned and locally run meaning a more personalized experience with sometimes more leisurely service. The dominant religion is Roman Catholic, where a night with a full moon is considered a holiday and no liquor is allowed! Buddhists also make up a large percentage of the population, and their authentic temples are spectacular. The wonderfully preserved millennia-old ruins alone are worthy of a short visit if time does not allow a longer excursion.

Wild elephant roam, and are a natural and integral part of the labor force. Sri Lanka's diversity ranges from untouched rainforests to an internationally renowned spice industry. This beautiful island nation is fully open for business with welcoming smiles.
This is the land of majestic mountains, exotic culture and gentle people. Tibet, 'the roof of the world', lay largely undiscovered by the rest of the world until the beginning of the 20th century, but has since fascinated travellers seeking the unspoilt and more remote corners of the globe. Most of Tibet is several thousand feet above sea level, meaning that the air is thin. The region is a Mecca for mountaineers, containing some of the world's highest mountain peaks, capped by Mount Everest at 29,029ft (8,848m), sited in the middle section of the Himalayas in Tibet's Tingri Country.

The monasteries built centuries back, the open grasslands, the unique and unspoiled lakes, the snow carved mountains are always worth visiting. Its like being addicted; the more you visit the more you want to go further and want to know more about this beautiful land. Tibet is scenically rich with snow-covered peaks, glaciated high passes, aquamarine lakes, primeval forests and almost continual bright-blue skies. Despite its altitude and thick snow covering the mountains, Tibet actually has snowfalls only a few times a year with plenty of sunshine the rest of the time. Tibet's major cities and towns are congregated mainly in the southern part of the region. Here, in the agricultural sector, are the capital Lhasa and the other major city of Shigatse, which offer the region's most important tourist attractions. Lhasa the capital city of Tibet at an altitude of 3,650 meters, is situated on the northern banks of the Kyichu River. Lhasa in Tibetan means "Palace of Gods", the (former) residence of the Dalai Lama. Potala Palace This legendary palace built atop a hill in the capital is synonymous with Tibet. This 13 storied, 1000-room citadel served as the headquarters of the former 'church state' of Tibet and has been home to successive Dalai Lamas. Since the 18th century, it has served as the winter palace. NorbuLingkha- The 'Jewel Park' as it is known in Tibetan, was built in the 18th century and served as the Summer Palace of the Dalai Lamas. The colorful landscaped garden around it used to be a site for picnic gatherings. The Jokhang Temple, Drepung Monastery, Gynastse Kumbum, Pelkhor Chode Monastery, Sakya Monastery are other places of interest in Tibet.

A taste of India with Indian Horizons

In India, philosophy and food are inseparable and Indian hospitality is justifiably legendary. A culinary tour is a different way of traveling to regions of India with interactions in urban cities and village life through the common thread of cuisine as it is through any other art or social activity.

Experience the Indian way of life through the traditional and local cuisine's that deepened the understanding of the country visited, and make the travel richer and tastier! Visits to private homes where you can cook or witness the cooking along with sympathetic housewives. The Indian kitchen is a place of sanctity and surprising simplicity. Visits to hotels for specialist cuisine’s that the chefs display through their skills. Curry tiffins and afternoon tea: culinary remnants of the colonial era can also be undertaken. India's amazingly versatile spices for masalas and medicines. Visits are made to spice markets to understand the meaning of spices and herbs and their use for health reasons as well. From North Indian barbecue and Mughlai cuisine to South Indian fare, Indian Horizons takes you on a journey sampling varied food, taking in diverse religions, cultures, languages and a way of life. You may even have an opportunity to eat 'Thaali', the traditional Gujarati meal in which you use your hands and pieces to chapatti to eat curry and vegetable dishes from small bowls and a large metal plate, along with rice, lentils and pappadams. Indian Horizons takes you on a total experience of culture and fulfils your appetite and curries.
